Fruit and Ornamental Trees

FOR SALE.

George Peters & Co.,

Proprietors of Fair-Mount Nurseries,

Beaumont, Adams County, Pa.

WE would respectfully call the attention of the public to our large stock of Fruit and Ornamental Trees, such as Apple, Peach, Standard and Dwarf Pear, Cherry, Apricot and Plum Trees; Grapes, Blackberry, Gooseberry and Currant stalks; Ornamental and Evergreen Trees, which we offer for sale at low prices. We have appointed John B. Bunker, Esq., our Traveling Agent, who is authorized to make sales and take orders.

FAIR-MOUNT NURSERIES having been established for more than 20 years, the proprietors flatter themselves that their trees are of the best selected kinds. Having fruited many of them, they know what they are. The greatly increased and increasing spirit of planting, as well as the degree of patronage extended to us, warrant us in greatly extending the Nurseries, so that we are prepared to offer for the autumn of 1860 and succeeding years a much more extensive stock than ever offered before—cultivating from thirty-five to forty acres, and containing several hundred thousand trees at various stages of growth all of which are grown on soil, and under treatment, best calculated to make a healthy and natural growth.

GEO. PETERS & CO.

The undersigned, having accepted the above Agency for the sale of fruit trees in this County, takes this method of informing the public, that those wishing to purchase trees will please take the earliest opportunity before I call personally upon them, as I expect to receive a portion of the County. All orders upon the subject addressed to me at Beaumont, or left at any of the hotels in Gettysburg, will be attended to. Catalogues can be had at all the Printing Offices. Persons wishing to select from catalogues can there see them. I will be in Gettysburg during Court week, so that persons wishing to purchase fruit trees can see me. The cultivation of good fruit of all kinds has been generally too much neglected in this County, as the demand for good fruit is very much on the increase.

Gettysburg Foundry.

THE subscriber, having purchased the Foundry of Messrs. Zimbaugh, Sion & Co., (formerly Warren's Foundry), has commenced business, and is now prepared to offer to the public a large assortment of Machinery, such as Steam Engines, of all sizes, and all kinds of Iron and Steel Castings, and all kinds of Turned and Milled Work.

REPAIRING of all kinds of Machinery and Castings, will be done to order on short notice. Patterns made to order. Moulds cast ready made; PLOUGHS, such as Fowler, White, and others, and many others not mentioned here; and eight different kinds of IRON FENCING, for Genetaries, Poles in Yards.

Also, Mortar Machines, one of the best in the country. This Machine will cut a level by hand; any little bit of masonry it will do for you. Call and examine our stock; no doubt but what we can please. Persons ought to see it their advantage to buy machinery of any kind at home, where it is manufactured, so that they can very easily get what they need or repaired.

To Consumptive and Nervous Sufferers

The subscriber, for several years, resident of Asia, discovered while there, a simple vegetable remedy—a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and Nervous Debility. For the benefit of Consumptive and Nervous Sufferers, he is willing to make the same public.

To those who desire it, he will send the Prescription, with full directions (free of charge), also a sample of the medicine, which they will find a beautiful combination of Nature's simplest herbs. Those desiring the Remedy can obtain it by return of mail, by addressing J. E. CUTLER, Esq., Bulfinch Physician, No. 409 Broadway, April 9. 3m New York.

A Liberal Reward

WILL be given for the return, or information of the whereabouts of PETER CULP, who ran away from the subscriber's place on the 20th of March, 1860—having been hired to me as an apprentice to the Carpenters' Business. The public is hereby notified not to trust said Culp on my account, as I will not be responsible for the same; and also, all persons are warned against giving him employment, as they will be held responsible for his wages.

Dusting the Furniture.

Bridget had been in the country a month,

and prided herself on the display of a green flock Bridget was very particular. She had obtained a place at service through the medium of an intelligence office, and carried her card in her pocket, for which she had paid the low rate of twenty-five cents. The day she entered on her domestic duties, was windy, and the dust exceedingly voluble. The next morning, the mistress of the house told Bridget to dust the furniture in the parlor, and to be very particular and careful about the piano.

"Yes, mum," replied Bridget, "that I will."

The mistress, expecting company, returned to an upper room, to make her toilet.

Bridget was now alone. She liked the "appearance of the place," and wished to discharge her duties well. She evidently knew the value of first impressions. Carefully collecting as much dust as she could —there was plenty of it in the yard—she took a kitchen utensil, commonly called a callender, that is a thing shaped like a wash basin, with the bottom well perforated. This she used as a sieve, not knowing perhaps its legitimate use. She dusted the chair, the sofa, the ottomans, the carpets, and then paid particular attention to the party instrument. She labored with great assiduity; the perspiration rolled down her face, and fearful that she had not dusted the things in the room to the satisfaction of the mistress, stood and mused awhile. A lucky thought crossed her mind;

the oval ash-bowl contained the desired article, and she finished her job by saving a quantum of dust on the piano.

"Now, she was in a dilemma—'s pose this is not dust," said she—"I'll go to the mistress's chamber and ask."

Bridget went up stairs, and a gentle tap at the door was answered with "come in."

"Mistress, I'm just after asking you (making a cursy at the same time) if there bees any difference betwixt coal ashes and tale dust."

"No, Bridget, only the tale dust is worse than coal ashes if anything. But why do you ask?"

"No matter, mum, I shall expect you down stairs in a bet of time when it places your ladyship—I only wanted to see the difference."

Bridget descended, and was in great glce.

"Sure," said she, "the Prastie told me to make a good impression at first, and then

I could do as I pleased after, without exciting

a dose of suspicion."

The mistress was finally attired in costly silks, and ready to receive company—

Bridget was down stairs anxiously awaiting her arrival. She had closed all the parlor doors just to keep the place as neat as possible. The coal stove was shut, the draught open, and the temperature was in the neighborhood of fever heat. Presently the mistress came down, and Bridget supplying she had done the thing up brown, opened the door.

"Gracious Heavens, what have you done?" exclaimed the astonished mistress,

as a glow of heat from the room reddened

What Happens in all Communities in Winter.

Solomon came into our sanctum the other day, and asked us if we had heard the news.

"What news?" we asked, up for an item.

"Why, a nose-pulling scrape this morning in our city; fifteen to twenty of our best citizens were engaged in it, and several of our first ladies took part. It was a very unpleasant sight, indeed."

"Did you witness it?" we inquired with eagerness, anxious to get particulars for our

"first edition."

"Yes, Mr. Local, and came to give you the correct particulars."

"Well, then," said we, seizing our pen, prepared to hear some terrible denouement,

"what caused the unfortunate and disgraceful affair?"

"Bad colds in the head!" said Solomon,

as he made a sudden exit at the door, followed by our inkstand, that would have made anything but a pleasant mark on his nose, if it had hit him.

KICKING AGAINST THE BRICKS.—

One of the most singular wagers we ever heard of, was made in Chicago on the day before the municipal election in that city. The bet was between a Water-street merchant and Ned Osborne, of the Tremont House, the largest cigar and tobacco dealer in the city, and was to the effect that if Wentworth was not elected, Osborne should have the privilege of kicking the Water-street merchant from the Tremont House to Springer street. The day after the election, the merchant having lost, came to Osborne's store, and presented his person to him for the contemplated kicks, and de-mandated that Osborne should take the stakes.

Osborne had been training his right leg all the previous day, and had aimed his foot with a heavy cowhide boot, with soles as thick as two elephants. The merchant stated up by the Tremont. Osborne delivering a heavy kick as he started, but drew back his foot with a spasmodic action, and patrony-in of countenance absolutely pitiful.

He tried another one, but the loser flinched not, and kept on his way undisturbed by the volley he had received. The result of this was worse than the first, and he fairly curled up on the ground and howled with pain. The merchant stooped and calmly inquired, "Why don't you take the stakes?" "What have you got in the basement of your pants?" cried Ned. "Milwaukee brick," shouted the merchant;

"and we ain't within a mile of Springer street yet." Osborne subsided, paid the champagne, and has been wearing a list slipper ever since.—Buffalo Republic.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

The Catalogue Freeborn, published at Ellipticville, gives an interesting chapter from the experience of a couple who commenced the journey of life together in Buffalo. Mr.

Wm. B. Harrison, of Ellipticville, and Miss

Maria P. Smith, of Buffalo, were married at the Geneva House, in that city, two years ago. The marriage was celebrated in the month of April. For a brief period all went well, and the marriage seemed likely to prove a highly advantageous affair for both parties. But their cup of hap-

Arrival of the Japanese Embassy at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3, 1860.—The United States steamer Powhatan, Capt. Pearson, bearing the flag of Commodore Tatnell, arrived on the 27th of March from Japan, via Honolulu. She brings the Japanese embassy, consisting of two principal Ambassadors, Prince of the highest rank among the nobility of the empire, and two associates, who are nobles of nearly equal rank. These four are of the Emperor's Council. They are accompanied by a suite of sixteen officers. Among them are three interpreters and fifty-two subordinates—making seventy-two in all.

The Powhatan arrived at Honolulu March 6th, and remained there till the 13th. The Ambassadors were there received with all formal honors. Private hospitalities were extended to every hand, and the King and Queen held court at the palace for the reception of the distinguished foreigners, and welcomed them in appropriate terms. They were also entertained at a grand ball given by the officers of the Powhatan, expressing great delight at the gay and novel scene.

They bring $100,000 to defray their personal expenses, although the Embassy invited at the sole expense of the United States. They were given the best quarters on board the Powhatan during the voyage, and arrived in good health and highly pleased.

The chief dignitaries are magnificently dressed in embroidered silk robes, each wearing a sword of beautiful workmanship. They have conducted themselves with great dignity and propriety.

The Japanese Ambassadors visited San Francisco on the 31st ult., and have remained the honored guests of the city ever since. Twenty thousand dollars have been appropriated from the city Treasury to provide for them suitable entertainment. All the Corporation officers, the members of the Legislature, the Governor and citizens generally, have paid their respects in person, and on the 2d inst., a grand public reception was given the strangers at the largest hall in the city, where the United States officers, both civil and military, with the foreign consuls and State authorities, participated in the reception ceremonies.

The Japanese carry an immense amount of baggage, including many boxes of presents for the United States Government.

They are so well pleased with the Powhatan that they express their wish to have her detained at Panama to convey them back to Japan on their return from the United States. They purpose spending about a month on the Atlantic side, although their time is not limited.

The State Capital seems permanently located at Sacramento, $100,000 having been appropriated for the commencement of a Capitol building, which is to cost, when completed, $500,000.

Fire in the Jersey Pines.—A FEARFUL SCENE.—The Mount Holly Mirror of the 5th inst. says: A fire was raging in the Pines, in this county, last week, to a fearful extent, and, of course, doing great damage. It started on Wednesday at Garoutown, half way between Red Lion and Friendship. Its cause was traced to Ex-Sheriff Dubbins' tract, at Retreat, from there to Bur's Mill, towards Mingen's, in the vicinity of which place it was burning on Friday. The extent of its ravages, at that time, was a distance of about six miles in length, by three in breadth.

The Almahawkin stage, on its way to Mount Holly, on Friday, met with a narrow escape from the fire. The driver, before he was aware of it, found himself almost in the midst of the flames. The great body of the fire, however, seemed to be unaware of him, and he turned around to make good his escape, but he had not proceeded far before the flames checked him in his retreat, and he was obliged to pursue his journey in another direction.

In a short time he again found himself surrounded by the flames. He saw no other course to pursue but to go straight ahead, and urging his horses to their utmost speed, hoped soon to be free from the devouring element. But when he was surrounded by the greatest body of fire and smoke, his horse became frightened and stopped, and it was impossible to move them. Here they remained for a minute or two, the fire roaring and crackling to a terrific extent, when suddenly, the smoke clearing away, the horses started, and the driver found that the great mass of fire had crossed the road a short distance in advance, and was making the most fearful ravages in its track to the right of him.

He was soon enabled to get entirely out of its path, and felt that he had never before been in so terrible a position. At one time it appeared to him that the flames must entirely surround him, and cut off all means of escape. He had two female passengers, and as may be supposed, they were frightened beyond all description. Fearing that they would perish in the fire and smoke, their screams were frequently the most painful nature.

Remarkable Endurance.

A MAN REMAINS IN THE MISSEPRI NEARLY TWO HOURS.—A young man about twenty-two years of age, whose name our informant was unable to recall, while attempting to cross the Mississippi a short distance below the city in a small skiff, night before last, was seen to be thrown into the water by the overturning of the boat; the wind was blowing exceedingly heavy at the time. A skiff with two men put out to the rescue, but they too were capsized, and had much difficulty in righting their boat, and returning to the shore. In the mean time, the overturned skiff could be seen floating down stream, but the man was no longer discernible to his anxious friends who had congregated on the banks, and he was given up for all lost.

What was their surprise, however, at dusk, to behold the supposed drowned man approach his home, having swum over two miles down and across the stream, and remaining in the water as near as could be judged, two hours. He stated, that finding he could not right the boat, he struck out for the opposite shore, pulling off his coat and boots in the meantime. After a fatiguing swim, he reached the Arkansas side, procured another boat, and returned to his friends, who it is needless to state, were glad to reclaim him to their former circle. —Memphis Enquirer.

On Friday last the enormous quantity of 151,000 bushels of corn were shipped from Chicago, and 91,000 bushels arrived there.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

CEITYSBURG:
MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1860.

PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR,
ANDREW G. CURTIN,
Of Centre County.

The Compiler has another "flourish of trumpets" about the Election of Judge in Wisconsin—telling those of his readers who are gullible, that the Democrats have elected their candidate "by at least 5,000 majority," whilst the Republican majority last year was 3,950. Now the facts are, that the Judge elected was supported as a "conservative" candidate by Whigs, Americans, moderate Republicans and Democrats. Why don't our neighbor up street sometimes try and tell the truth?

The Gas Works.

We are gratified to see that the contractor for this important work is pushing forward the enterprise with great energy. Our streets are pretty well ditched already, and a considerable amount of main pipe laid. Several of our citizens have already the pipe taken into their houses, ready for the "gas." The gas-house is under way, and the whole affair will be arranged during the summer months.

Burglary.

A most daring burglary was committed in this place on last Saturday night. The house of Mr. JAMES PIERCE, in Baltimore street, was entered some time during the night, and a small desk in a lower room, in which he kept his papers and money, was taken out into the alley, broken open, and robbed of the money it contained (about $95). The papers were undisturbed. Housekeepers had better be on their guard, as there appears to be a good many rogues about.

A week or two ago, the cellar of Mr. KOUNT was also entered, and about 50 pounds of butter taken.

We call attention to the advertisement of BASTRESS & PETERS, of New Oxford, in our paper to-day. The former has a high reputation for business qualifications and agreeable manners, and will find an able assistant in the latter.

From some local matter, the People's candidate for Judge failed in his election in March, in Abbotstown. But the election for Borough officers on the 7th inst. showed that all is right there—the entire People's ticket being elected by the old-fashioned majority.

Mr. WM. H. DILL, late of Pennsylvania College, has been appointed Professor of Ancient Languages in Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, Pa.

There has been a change in the time of arrival and departure of the Cars on our Railroad, for the particulars of which see the advertisement.

Mr. JOSEPH WIBLE has purchased from Mr. FREDERICK HERR the old tavern stand and farm on the Chambersburg turnpike, 2 miles from town, at $40 per acre cash.

On Friday week, the Gettysburg train, when passing across the street in Hanover, run into some cattle and sheep belonging to Mr. Joseph Dellone, killing one cow and two sheep.

The Hanover Band has disposed of its Brass instruments to a Band in Bendersville for $200, and their Bass and Tenor drums to the Abbotstown Band.

A man named Bloom, living in York, while under the influence of liquor, a few days ago, stabbed his son, a young man about 20 years of age, with a knife, wounding him so badly that his life is despaired of.

OUR RELATIONS WITH SPAIN.—

The Hon. Wm. Preston, our ambassador to Spain, returned by the Asia, and has proceeded to Washington. The New York Tribune is assured that he has negotiated a treaty with the Queen's government whereby all the questions hitherto in issue between the two nations are adjusted, and the most amicable relations established.

DEATH WHILE AT PRAYER.—

A few days ago, Mrs. Clara Vanderwerkin, an estimable lady, sixty-one years of age, who resided alone in a small house on Broad street, West Troy, was found dead in her room. She was in the attitude of prayer by the side of her bed, with her face in the clothes.

Doings of the Court.

On Monday of last week, the usual business incident to the opening of the Court took place. But one trial took place in the Common Pleas, on that day and the following, which was as follows:

Daniel Lushell vs. Henry Wanta. Appeal from Justice of the Peace, on claim for balance due for work and labor done. Verdict for Plaintiff for $80 75 and cost.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

Com. vs. John Eckenrode.—Assault and Battery. Indictment ignored, and prosecutor, Samuel Sheets, ordered to pay costs.

Com. vs. Adam Artz.—Indicted for removing a line-tree. Verdict, Guilty. Motion in arrest of judgment and for a new trial filed by Defendant's counsel.

Com. vs. John Hildebrand. Indicted for Mayhem, in causing the destruction of one of the eyes of Reuben Stahl. Verdict Not Guilty. Defendant was bound over to answer at August term the charge of Assault and Battery with intent to kill, growing out of the same difficulty.

Com. vs. Jacob Storey and Henry Craig. Indictment for malicious mischief. Stover sentenced to three months imprisonment and Craig to six.

Com. vs. Nathan Lewis and Jacob Craig. Indictment for Larceny of trunk and clothing of Mary Blunburgh. Verdict of acquittal in the case of Nathan Lewis, and conviction of Jacob Craig. He was sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary.

All the applications for Tavern Licenses, as advertised, were granted.

COMMON PLEAS.

John B. Hoffman vs. Executor of David Diehl. Action for Debt. Verdict for Defendant.

The Pope of Rome is now in his sixty-eighth year, and even should he be obliged to flee from the Eternal City, he will have enough to maintain himself comfortably for the remainder of his life. It appears the "Peter Pence" contributions have already amounted to about one hundred and sixty thousand dollars, of which sum Ireland has contributed eighty thousand dollars, as much as all the other countries of Europe taken together. Besides this, it is currently reported that the Pope has no less than twelve million dollars the pious offerings of good Catholics, packed away in boxes at the Vatican; so that, in case he should consider another henna necessary, the money for his traveling expenses is abundantly provided.

The Springfield (Ohio) Journal states that a wretch living near that city, named Joseph Shubert, recently sent his mother to the city to be supported by the county, or perish in the streets, although well able to provide for her himself. The poor woman is eighty years of age, and a few years ago gave all her property to her sons. She was properly taken care of.

At a fire in a dwelling house at Philadelphia on Friday, it is said that persons in firemen's equipments made a rush for the sleeping apartments, plundered the bureau drawers, and carried off almost everything they could conceal. Jewelry and other trinkets, valued at several hundred dollars, are missing.

THE DANGER OF SLEEPING IN RAILROAD CARS.—On Wednesday night last, a western merchant, on the night line between Harrisburg and Lancaster, took a berth in a sleeping car, and, having deposited his portmanteau under his pillow, resigned himself to the arms of Morpheus. On awaking to the arms of Morpheus, and chagrin he found his treasure gone. Search was immediately instituted among the passengers in the car, but no trace of the money or the robe was discovered.

The British force, intended for the third war with China, will consist of about 10,000 Europeans, and 7,600 natives, or a total of about 20,000 men. To this the French will add about 10,000 infantry and cavalry, and about 3,000 marines and sailors. The total expedition will, therefore, amount to about 30,000 men, exclusive of the allied navy, the base of operations lying out of sight of the coast.

Recent advices from Sebastopol represent it as in the same forlorn and dilapidated condition as when the English troops left Balaklava. Tukerman and the Redan bear the same trace of the besieging forces. A few old houses have been converted into habitable dwellings by the Russian soldiers, who reside in them. Lord Raglan's house and the churchyard also remain in the condition in which they were left, nor has anything been done in the shape of restoration of the hospital, once one of the most magnificent buildings in Sebastopol. One portion of the city, which was rendered not wholly uninhabitable, has been patched up by a few poor Jews, who get their living by going over the desolated field of battle, picking up the leaden treasure, and shot and shell. The harbor has been partially filled up. The American company engaged with the sunken vessels have raised about forty. This work, and the making of a patent ship for a dock are the inhabitants' means of employment for the moment. About the beginning of November 1,000,000 roubles, contributed by the inhabitants of St. Petersburg, were distributed among the residents who had their property destroyed, and with this assistance a few have commenced to either rebuild their old property or erect new buildings, so that another new field for labor may now have sprung up.

The Russians have taken away all the guns from Fort Constantine and the batteries. The Malakoff and Mackenzie's Fort, and the Almahawkin, also remain as when left by the English troops. The only thing noticeable by way of commendation are the roads made by the allies, those made by the English being in every respect superior to those of the French.

The fire in the Jersey Pines has been extinguished by the recent rains. This conflagration has proved an extensive one, and is supposed to have swept over a surface of twenty miles in length, and from ten to twelve in breadth, destroying thousands of acres of pine timber.

Shocking Death.

We are pained to learn of the sudden and distressing death of Mr. WM. BENDER, son of Mr. JOHN BENDER, of Menallen township, which occurred on Friday week. He had started in the morning for the neighborhood of Papertown, in Cumberland county, for a load of lime, with a team of four horses. Before arriving there he was met by several boys, who requested permission to ride on the wagon. He consented, on condition that they remained quiet, as his horses would not stand any noise. No sooner were they on the wagon, than they commenced whooping and hallooing, when the horses ran off, and Mr. Bender was in some way thrown under the wagon, the wheels passing over him. This was about 9 o'clock in the morning, and by half-past 1 o'clock he was a corpse. His remains were brought home on Saturday, and interred on the 15th, at Bender's Church.

Mr. Bender was one of the most estimable young men in that community, and his untimely death is deplored by all who enjoyed his acquaintance.—Compiler.

A bill to suppress polygamy in Utah passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 147 to 60 days. This is allowing the people of a Territory like those of a State to regulate their domestic institutions in their own way with a vengeance. If Congress has the right to abolish polygamy in the Territories, has it not the same right to abolish slavery? Where is squatter sovereignty when you come to carry it into practice? It is one of the grandest humbugs of the age, and will never be heard of in carrying on our government. All parties must repudiate it.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—A very voluminous report of correspondence between our government and that of the German States, concerning the rights of our naturalized citizens to visit the places of their nativity, was made to the Senate to-day. Gen. Cass lays down the general doctrine that a naturalized citizen visiting Germany must be allowed to remain without renunciation and depart in peace. That the summary ordering away of such a citizen of the "United States," without good cause, would be regarded as an unfriendly act towards this government.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The President to-day transmitted to the Senate copies of additional correspondence with foreign governments concerning the rights of American naturalized citizens abroad. It is concluded throughout in good temper—the United States in all cases repudiating the doctrine of perpetual allegiance.

It appears from these documents that twelve years ago the British government released two naturalized Irishmen who were suspected of aiding in the rebellion and engaged in treasonable practices. Lord Palmerston, however, declared that foreign born subjects of Britain, who may have become naturalized in foreign countries, but who return to the United Kingdom, are as amenable as any other of Her Majesty's subjects to any laws which may be in force either of a permanent or temporary nature.

THE CLAY STATUE AT NEW ORLEANS.—The demonstration at New Orleans on the 12th inst., on the occasion of the inauguration of the Clay statue is said to have been the most imposing affair ever witnessed in that city. The procession, military and civic, was four miles long. W. H. Hunt was the orator of the day. The Knights Templars turned out in large numbers, all mounted on white horses.

A MAN OF POPULARITY.—Count Cavour is a very popular man. He has been elected to the Italian Parliament by the cities of Turin, Genoa, Milan, Bologna, and Florence. This makes an array of names such as rarely is brought together in any occurrence of any age. He is, therefore, a Sardinian representative, a Lombard representative, a Roman representative, and a Tuscan representative.

A LARGE PLANTATION.—The Natchez Free Trader, of the 17th ult., says:—The largest sale ever made in this county was commenced yesterday. D. D. Whittier sold out his place, in the lower part of this county (9,000 acres of land, with improvements, and 515 slaves), to John K. Elgee, of Louisiana, for $1,001,200.

It appears by the reports of the marshal of Ohio that the people of Ashland county are in arms to resist the execution of the Senate's authority to bring Brown before the committee charged with the investigation of the Harper's Ferry affair.

CALLING ALL HANDS.—

A firm in Watertown, Conn., by an ingenious application to the ordinary whistle of their engines, awakens the whole town at 6 A. M., and calls their hands together at 7 A. M., and at 1 P. M., by a steam gong, that is easily heard five miles distant. Watertown must be a delightful residence for "sick persons and young children."

EARLY CHERRIES.—It is believed that the magistrate who officiated on the occasion reported below made the usual deduction of "children half price."

Married, in Campbellton, Fla., in the store of William Daniel, Jr., on the 21st of March, by James Hall, Esq., Master Robert Cherry (aged 18 years) to Miss Josephine Gregory (aged 16 years).

ANOTHER FILIBUSTERING HAND.—The mysterious order of "The Tambores" is attracting attention at San Antonio and Austin, Texas, where they have obtained strong holds. It seems to be a fighting order and squints at Mexico. The Intelligence says that armed bodies of men arrive and disappear suddenly in Austin.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Archibald Frazier, while eating dinner at his boarding house, in Savannah, Georgia, on Tuesday, suddenly became speechless, and died in two minutes. A post mortem examination revealed a large piece of beef fastened in the wind-pipe, and checking respiration.

A fire at Troy, N. Y., has destroyed property to the amount of $30,000, including eleven dwellings, four barns, a wagon factory and a cooper shop.

Thanks.

It is the pleasing duty of the Horticultural Committee to announce the following resolution, passed unanimously at the last regular meeting of the Linnean Society of Pennsylvania College, on Saturday 14th April, 1860:—

Resolved, That the thanks of the Linnean Society be tendered to those kind friends who recently, by furnishing teams, tools, and tan, without charge, have so materially assisted us in repairing the walks and beautifying the College "Campus."

Enniburg.

While spending a few days in the pleasant town of Enniburg last week, I was very much interested in a Female Primary School Exhibition held in that place. The tastefully-decorated schoolroom, and beauty of the young ladies made a deep impression upon my susceptible bachelor heart. Indeed such a feast I have not enjoyed for many a year. I was carried back again to the days of my boyhood when I was a participant in just such gay scenes. The essays were written and read in a masterly manner. Miss "HELEN" spoke of the "Past, Present and Future." In her case permit me to say the beautiful bold promises much for the full-blown flower. Miss "HARRIET" told us a sad "Reminiscence of the Past," which found a responsive echo in my heart. The slight hoarseness of her voice rendered the reader doubly interesting. Miss "CLARA," in an "Apostrophe to the Moon," spoke of a "scene of Maiden and Lover." We hope the lady fair will pardon us if we wonder if experience taught her. Her Majesty, Miss "EMMA," carried us captive with "Midnight Musings." Her ideas were beautiful and full of depth. Of the Dialogues, Vocal and Instrumental Music, we find ourselves inadequate to speak. The lady who has charge of the Instrumental and Vocal department certainly deserves the highest praise, as well as those other teachers whose duties were more irksome. Nevertheless we are assured they feel themselves amply repaid by the credit their beautiful scholars do them. Young ladies, we hope you will kindly receive the honest compliments of the stranger.

Disunion in Congress.

The public should never forget the startling fact that a great proportion of the Democratic members of the present Congress have openly declared themselves to be in favor of disunion in the event of the success of the Republicans next fall. This party will endeavor to cover up the record as much as possible while the Presidential election is pending. But the facts are there, and cannot be evaded. Not a Democratic speech has been made in Congress this session, that a Northern paper dare publish. Disunion, with all its horrors, has been held forth by every Democratic orator, as the culmination of his argument. The circulation of such doctrines here would be death to any party, and hence their concealment by the Democratic press. On the other hand, disloyalty to the Union has never been entertained or proclaimed by any Republican member of Congress, under any circumstances whatever. The odium of Disunion and Treason clings fast to those who are guilty, and at the bar of public opinion the Democratic party must answer for their traitorous sentiments and deeds.

The War Cloud Thickening.

By the last arrivals from Europe, we perceive the evidences of a very general discontent in various quarters. Little Switzerland is bristling up with the intention of disputing with France about the occupation of Savoy, and there can be no doubt that she is urged on to this by more powerful States. England again appears to be much dissatisfied, and all the pleasure derived from the expected opening of more intimate commercial intercourse with France seems to have vanished. Louis Napoleon, it is evident, is fated to keep Europe in a fever, but whether any immediate war will grow out of these complications or not, it is hard to see. He seems to enjoy the fears of his neighbors so much that he is never satisfied but when he is exciting them. At present the prospect is full of trouble, and it is very doubtful, if many months shall pass without more serious combats than that which now attracts the attention of the sport-loving people of England.

We have news from California as late as the 3d inst., brought by the overland pony express. But a few years ago, when communication with California was accomplished in twenty-three days by steamers on the two oceans and railroad across the Isthmus of Panama, it was considered an achievement; when the overland trip was made, through wilderness and hostile regions, and across the Rocky Mountains, in nineteen days, the wonder was increased; and now we have the greatest feat of all: news by the "pony express" and telegraph combined, from San Francisco to the extreme east of this continent in ten days! Truly this is one of the wonders of the age; and as the National Intelligencer remarks, "that there is nothing new under the sun" will soon become an exploded saying, though of ancient origin and from almost inspired lips."

POISONING OF CHILDREN.—At the Orphan Asylum in Lexington, Ky., the children recently ate by mistake some arsenic prepared for the destruction of rats. Twenty-one of the victims of this mistake were seriously poisoned, but, by great care, were saved from death.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A fire broke out in Canal street, Whitehall, N. Y., on Friday last, which destroyed twenty buildings, including two banks, the postoffice, and the telegraph and express offices.

County Superintendent.

MR. EDITOR.—The first Monday in May next being the time designated for the School Directors in the County to choose a County Superintendent of Common Schools, allow me to recommend favorably to their notice Dr. DAVID CARL, of York Springs. He having been engaged in the Counties of York, Cumberland and Adams as a practical Teacher of Common Schools, upwards of sixteen years; and having had the best opportunity of witnessing his method of teaching, I can cheerfully bear testimony to his qualifications, together with other abilities at his command, which eminently fit him for this important position.

FRIEND OF EDUCATION.

Clerk of the Courts.

MR. EDITOR.—Among the important offices to be filled next fall is that of Clerk of the Courts. It is a responsible post, and a matter of great importance to the public to have placed in it a man fully competent to discharge the duties of the office. With a view to this, and with a desire to see a strong man placed upon the ticket—one who could command the entire vote of the People's Party, and at the same time bring to his support a host of honest democrats—allow me to recommend Mr. JOHN M. WOLF, of Berwick Borough, for that post.

SHERIFFALTY.

MR. EDITOR.—There appears to be a disposition upon the part of our friends in all parts of our County, to put in nomination a strong ticket to be supported at the fall election. This is right, and to assist in bringing about this much desired object allow me to recommend, in addition to those already announced, Mr. JACOB F. LOWEN, of Franklin township, as the strongest and most available person in the County for the Sheriffalty. Put him in nomination and that part of the ticket could not be made stronger.

The Corvode Investigating Committee.

It would have been a very unfortunate thing if the President's protest against the Corvode Investigating Committee had interfered in the least with the developments now making. Indeed, after the lamentation of the President, in his Duquesne letter, about carrying elections by money, the investigation was required, and the testimony of the last day or two shows that the President had good ground for what he said. Mr. George Plitt, Clerk of the United States District Court of Philadelphia, has testified that, as Treasurer of the Pennsylvania State Central Committee of the Democratic party, in 1856, he disbursed seventy thousand dollars; by this means Buchanan got Pennsylvania and the Presidency. It must have been to this that he alluded so feelingly in his Duquesne letter. Now let the Committee inquire how this money was raised and how it was expended.

How Democratic Editors are Paid.

George W. Baker, editor of the Pennsylvania, the Democratic organ of Philadelphia, testified before the Corvode Investigating Committee, a few days ago, that he regularly received a salary of $1200 a year, from the Custom House, for doing nothing. He holds the nominal post of assistant cashier in the Custom House, an office which has no existence in law or fact. He has never performed an hour's work in it. It is merely a sham gotten up for the purpose of pensioning an Administration official upon the government. The Pennsylvania is utterly incapable of sustaining itself—hence the necessity of paying its editor from the public purse. The People begin to think it is time to stop this robbery of the National Treasury for the benefit of old party hacks.

WASHINGTON, April 15, 1860.—

Hon. Wm. Cook Johnson died to-day at the National Hotel. So sudden was his decease that neither himself nor attending friends seemed aware that his life was near its close. Apparently he had been convalescing for some days back.

The deceased was a native of Frederick county, a well known lawyer, and distinguished Whig politician. He was repeatedly a member of the Legislature of Maryland; a member of the House of Congress from 1838 to 1835, and from 1837 to 1843; a member of the State Constitutional Convention; a candidate for Governor, but defeated by the Hon. Francis Thomas, of Frederick, and president of the national convention of young men which met in Washington to nominate Henry Clay for President.

SUDDEN DARKNESS.—A sudden darkness enveloped the city of Pittsburgh about 7 o'clock, Monday morning, rendering the whole city as dark as night. The Chronicle says: Previous to the change, a painful stillness pervaded the city, rendering sounds at a distance plainly audible.—The bell on the East Liberty train was distinctly heard all through the second ward, and other sounds equally distant were quite audible. The whole thing lasted but a few moments, and when it had passed away, all seemed more or less relieved.

A beautiful but silly girl, of 16 to 18 years, daughter of a widow of Rockford, Ill., advertised for a husband in the paper, for the romance of the thing, and was caught and seduced by a Pike's Peak gambler named Wm. Moore. She started in company with him for Pike's Peak, and now has been found murdered on the way to Ottumwa, Iowa.

The imports at Portland, Me., by the Canadian steamships during the winter, amounted to over twenty-five millions.

Menallen Agricultural Club.

Saturday Evening, April 7, 1860.
Subject of the last meeting continued. A paper was read on "the growing of Potatoes."

C. GRIEST, Sen., said he had succeeded best by manuring heavily. A clover sod, ploughed down, sowed out shallow; covered the seed by passing shovel plough along each side of the row; harrowed lengthwise when coming up; cultivated often during early growth and gradually worked the soil up to the row—had planted seed whole and cut. Could not tell which did best.

J. RUTZMAN said, he raised by planting the seed whole and preferred to select the large, perfect ones. Thought it gradually improved the variety. By planting the small seed they would in this estimation, degenerate in the course of time.

PRESIDENT said he had met with a farmer, formerly a resident of this County, now living in Somerset county, Pa., who had turned his attention to growing potatoes—he takes corn stubble, manures well—sows on two feet by three; cuts his potatoes 2 eyes to a piece, and plants two pieces to a hill; always selected his seed as soon as taken out of the ground; takes the largest and finest; said he had improved his potatoes by so doing; had taken up single potatoes weighing three and a half pounds; believed their soil and situation better adapted to potatoes than Adams County.

WM. B. WILSON said, he was confident that by selecting the seed, potatoes could be improved both in quality and quantity. Just as important as selecting corn or any other seed for planting. Asked to read an essay on planting corn shallow.

C. GRIEST, Sen., said corn should not be covered more than three-fourths of an inch; on a level surface three-fourths of an inch of fine mould, pressed down with a roller, is deep enough to plant corn; had planted a field two years ago with a planter—the first half of the field I put in three and a half inches; for the balance he set it to plant 2 inches; heavy rains preceded its coming up, and the part planted shallow came up well, while a good portion of that planted three and a half inches never came up at all; it was a hill-side which might have made it worse.

D. D. GIRT said there was considerable difference in covering corn with a planter and a hoe; when it is covered with the hoe the round hills will dry out sooner; should be covered a little deeper with the planter than with the hoe, and preferred the planter, and cover shallow.

SOLOMON BENDER said, when covered with a hoe, it is apt to dry out, at least does not come up regularly, had covered his corn for several years with a two pronged corn-fork, though he thought a cover with a roller attached is preferable.

Rotation of crops was then taken up.

WM. B. WILSON said, a proper rotation of crops is one of the great principles in farming. The common practice of rotation here is corn, oats followed with wheat, then grass; his experience fairly proved that there would be very little difference in the wheat crop where the corn-stalk ground was sowed in oats.

SOLOMON BENDER said he had hauled out manure for wheat before and after harvest; found it best to haul out just before ploughing; his rotation is corn, with lime. Then oats, then manure to wheat; the grass, is in favor of the practice of turning down clover for wheat; remarking that some farmers when breaking up a field continued cropping it too long whilst their adjoining fields are suffering for the want of cultivation.

The experience of several members present plainly showed that clover is a good renovator when not ploughed down too green.

C. GRIEST said heavy soil can be greatly benefited by ploughing down clover—think it should not be ploughed down for wheat on light soils.

D. D. GIRT said the time is now here to plant spring crops, and would suggest to the members to experiment by the different modes, and when they gather their crops report to the club.

WM. ELLIS then exhibited a model of Ray's Improved National Reaper and Mower, which, from its simple, yet evidently substantial construction, cannot fail to do its work well, and give satisfaction. Adjourned to meet on the 3d Saturday evening of April.

Subject for next meeting "The Cultivation of Small Fruits," together with the subject of "Fear Culture."

JOHN BURKHOLDER, Pres't.

A Prisoner Leaps from a Railway Train.

The express train over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad from the West, on Saturday, in charge of Conductor Phelps, numbered among its passengers detective officer Benjamin Levy, of Philadelphia, and his prisoner, a man named J. T. Smith, who was charged with kidnapping a free colored man from Philadelphia, a few weeks since, and selling him in Louisville, Ky. The arrest was upon a requisition of the Governor of Pennsylvania, Smith having been previously arrested in Louisville, and Levy was on his return to Philadelphia with the prisoner and his victim in charge. When the train reached a point about seven miles this side of Piedmont, at 9 o'clock on Saturday night, Smith, who had been industriously poring over a map of the railroad route, asked permission of his attendant to go into the water closet, which very natural request was granted. In a minute or two Levy's suspicions were excited by the absence of Smith, and as he had failed to handcuff him, visions of an escape flitted before the eyes of the detective. He entered the closet, but it was empty, and the raised window offered the only solution. Smith had freed himself from the attention of the officers by leaping from the car window while the train was moving along at the rate of 25 or 30 miles an hour. To stop the train immediately was impossible, and before it could be done the scene of the bold escape was several miles behind. The spot where the fellow jumped off was rather precipitous, and supposing he would find him either dead or disabled, detective Levy left the train at Cumberland, and after securing the colored man in jail, went back in search of Smith, but up to yesterday nothing had been heard of him. Smith is said to be a powerful man of muscular proportions. He says he has traveled through the thirty-three States, and is used to the largest kind of liberty. So it would seem.

A Well Named Husband.

James Lawless, aged forty years, was sent below yesterday morning, for thirty days, as a drunken vagrant. This miserable wretch resided in the rear of 921 Bonall, or Rodman street, and at the unseasonable hour of two o'clock yesterday morning, thrust his wife and infant child out of the house. The poor heart-broken creature took refuge in the out-house, to shield herself from the cool air, and hide from her demon husband. The infant accidentally fell down the well, and the screams of the mother aroused the neighbors. Among those who hastened to the scene was a young man named Nicholas Schumeyer, who procured a clothes-line and submitted himself to be lowered into the well. He came very near suffocating from the foul air, but he rescued the baby in time to save its life. Mr. S. was seriously affected about the eyes, probably by the mephitic gas. Indeed, he remained quite unwell during yesterday, from inhaling the same noxious vapor. The drunken wretch who caused all this trouble and excitement, was taken into custody and dealt with as above stated.—Philadelphia News.

Buried Alive.

Within a few months past, says the Albany Knickerbocker, necessity has demanded that the German Lutheran burial-ground, on the Bowery, should be stripped of its sacred rites as a sepulchre for the dead, and improved with dwellings for the living. Last week, while engaged in removing coffins, the men came across one containing the body of a man named Wertz, who died and was buried eighteen months since. From some cause or other, perhaps present, whether friends of the deceased or not we cannot say, were prompted to open the coffin. When they did so, imagine their surprise on beholding the body, face downward, and the fingers of the man gripped in his hair! From this it is evident that Mr. Wertz had been buried alive, and in his agony of distress on becoming conscious of his entombment, had worked himself into the position above described. This is a horrid state of things to be realized by the friends of the deceased.

The Recent Freshets.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.—The recent heavy rains have caused a good deal of damage to the railroads and canals in central Ohio. The Central Ohio railroad, east of Newark, was overflowed for miles. The water was six feet deep in the streets of Marietta, Ohio. The Muskingum river, at Zanesville, was higher than ever before known. The country west of Zanesville was entirely overflowed. Several warehouses on the line of the Central Ohio railroad were swept away by the flood. It is estimated that $50,000 damage has been done to the public works of Ohio. An entire family, named Henry, numbering six persons, living on Deep Run, in Belmont county, Ohio, were swept away by the water on Tuesday morning last, and five of the number drowned. The sixth one clung to drift wood during the night, and was rescued on the following morning almost dead from bruises and fatigue.

An old lady living back of Martinsville, Ohio, on bank of a run, was driven from her house hurriedly on Tuesday, barely escaped with her life, and compelled to stand for hours exposed to the beating storm. Her stable, three cows and a little boy were borne away before her eyes. The stable and two of the cows were lost. A valuable house-dog plunged into the stream, and, after considerable effort, succeeded in bringing the little boy safely to shore.

Life in Arkansas.

A correspondent of the Petersburg (Va.) Express, writing from Arkansas, says:—We have "chills" of from five to seven hundred horse power. They may be found anywhere walking about through the country, and are disagreeably friendly, sticking closer than a brother of the fondest affection. They will come to your house, sleep with you, sit down at your table, take up permanent quarters with you without ever saying as much as by your leave, or thanking you for your hospitality. A "chill" is an utter abomination, and not even to be thought of in a good humor. From all such, good Lord deliver us!

Old Adams, the great California hunter, with one hundred and fifty living animals of his own capturing, including seventeen dancing and performing bears, has arrived at Philadelphia from San Francisco on board the ship Golden Fleec.

HE DOES HIS OWN WORK.—All accounts agree in saying that if Mr. Douglas does not win the Charleston nomination, it will not be for want of aid from his very near and dear friend, the "Little Giant." The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes:—

Douglas has taken the field in person, and canvasses with his accustomed assiduity and energy. He may be seen in the Senate lobbies, in the hotels, and on the sidewalks, talking earnestly with his friends, and by look and word, gesturing, stimulating them to action. Probably no other candidate for a Presidential nomination ever played his hand so openly and boldly. But by this sign he has conquered in his previous struggles, and if he abandon the policy now, he would cease to be Stephen A. Douglas.

A Grand Summer Excursion. An expedition will leave Boston early in June for the northern coast of Labrador and Hudson's Straits, under the charge of Mr. John W. Dodge, a gentleman of high literary and scientific attainments, who has been in the habit of visiting that region every summer for several years past for recreation and research. The party accompanying him will be composed chiefly of gentlemen from the Smithsonian Institution and Williams College, and will number about thirty in all. Two or three ladies also contemplate joining the party. The cruise will be devoted to hunting, fishing, and scientific investigation, and a visit will be paid to the Esquimaux and the Moravian missions. Mr. Dodge assumes the entire expense of the trip, and will levy a pro rata charge upon each individual. The expedition will return in September. There are probably no finer salmon waters than those of that region. The woods abound in small caribou, and the rocks with birds and eggs. Vessels from St. John and Halifax go there annually to load with eggs, which are found in immense quantities.

Fatal Accident. In Wilmington, (N. C.) on Saturday evening (7th instant) Joseph S. Cannady, a young mechanic, who had just purchased a dirk, while jesting with a companion, playfully struck his own breast with the knife, crying "Lay on Macduff!" His friend told him that he had stabbed himself. He stated that he had not, but upon looking at his breast perceived the blood, when he uttered "Good Lord!" and falling backwards in the door, died almost immediately. It is supposed that when he struck himself with the dagger he intended to do so with the handle, as he had often done before, repeating dramatic quotations, and "quitting the action to the word."
